Provizio Relocates Headquarters to Meridian, ID and Invests in Community's Public Safety

Founder & CEO Tim Rhodes Presents Mayor de Weerd and Police Chief Musser with Non-Lethal Weapons Technologies

May 07, 2004 - Meridian, ID. Provizio, the leading provider of actionable primary competitive intelligence announced today that it has moved its corporate headquarters to Meridian, Idaho.

"We could not be more excited about increasing Provizio's development in the community of Meridian, Idaho," said Founder & CEO Tim Rhodes. "We are committed not only to achieving our growth objectives, but we also wish to partner with the community and support it in any way that we can."

As a show of support to the Meridian community, the company has purchased two X-26 stun-guns from the leading non-lethal manufacturer in the US, Taser International, to be given to Meridian's Mayor and Police Chief. "I think it is important to our community that our officers are armed with the latest and best technologies for protecting themselves and our citizens," Rhodes said. The presentation will take place on Monday, May 10th at 11:30am at the new Provizio offices at 3340 E. Goldstone Way in Meridian, Idaho.

Rhodes originally founded Provizio, in Meridian in 1999, but moved the company to Boise in 2002. The company intends to maintain its growth trend while it continues to refine its services and build its infrastructure and professional team throughout the rest of this year. "The move to Meridian also allows us to reduce certain operating costs, while improving operational efficiencies as we scale the company to support our continued growth this year," he said.

"Meridian is centrally located to allow Provizio team members to work minute from their families, said Steven Ackerman, EVP of Intelligence Services for Provizio, adding, "We felt that the Meridian location, business community and city officials offers Provizio more elements that an evolving small Idaho business needs today."
